

John D. Anderson Killed When Hit By Skidding Automobile

Car Crushes Victim Against PP&L Truck

Icy road conditions and a dense fog which blanketed the Poconos early yesterday were blamed for the death of an East Stroudsburg man in one of a number of traffic accidents.

Killed instantly when pinned between the back of a truck and front of a skidding auto on Route 611 south of Mount Pocono was John D. Anderson, 52, of 43 Ransberry Ave.

It was the first motor vehicle fatality of the year in Monroe County.

State police of Mount Pocono said Anderson was among the crew of a construction department truck working for Pennsylvania Power and Light Co. out of Mount Pocono who stopped about 7:15 a.m. near Wiscasset golf course to help move the vehicle from a snowbank.

The truck, driven by Frank Fetterman, of Hazleton, skidded on the glassy highway, spun around and the rear became wedged in deep snow.

Crewmen were attempting to get the truck back on the highway when an automobile driven by Frank Casale, 32, of Newark, N. J., came over the crest of the hill, skidded attempting to avoid a direct collision, then crashed into Anderson pinning him against the rear wheels and boom of the truck.

Casale, a passenger, Charles Finestine, Flushing, N. Y., were thrown from the car, police said. Casale suffered a minor head injury and Finestine, cuts on the face and mouth.

Wayne Singer, Stroudsburg RD3, another crew member of the truck received a left leg injury attempting to escape from the oncoming auto.

Dr. E. O. Hendrick of Mount Pocono gave treatment to the three injured men at the scene. Dr. Charles H. Rushmore, Monroe County coroner, pronounced Anderson dead and issued a certificate stating the utility worker died of punctured lung and heart. Troopers James Riley and Homer Jones investigated.

Casale waived a hearing before Justice of the Peace William N. Walton, Stroudsburg, and posted $1,000 bond on involuntary manslaughter charge pending further court action.

Born in Hagerstown, Md., Anderson had lived in the Stroudsburgs for the past 15 years. Before that he lived in Allentown for 12 years.

He had been a PP&L and Metropolitan-Edison Co. employee about 27 years. He was a member of Fraternal Order of Eagles, Aerie 1106; and Central Labor Union.

Surviving are his wife, Bessie; a son, Paul, at home; a sister, Mrs. Flossie Sullivan, Washington, D. C.

Services will be at 2 p.m. Saturday at Clark funeral home, Stroudsburg, with Rev. Harold C. Eaton, East Stroudsburg Methodist pastor, officiating. Burial will be in Laurelwood Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home after 7 p.m. Friday.

House Group Bars Tax On Sick Benefits

Washington (AP)—The House Ways and Means Committee yesterday agreed to wipe out income taxes on most workers' sick benefits paid directly by the employer.

The action would extend to millions of additional workers the tax exemption now limited to those covered under commercial insurance contracts. But it limited to $100 a week the tax-free salary reimbursement that could be paid by a sick employee.

The committee, engaged in a sweeping revision of the nation's tax laws, also voted to remove the tax exemption from municipal bonds issued for other than public purposes.

Rep. Forand (D-RI), who reported approval of that provision by a 16-7 vote, said it would require payment of taxes on income from revenue bonds issued by cities in some southern states to induce industries to locate there. The provision was made retroactive to require tax payments on all income from such bonds after last Dec. 31.

The change would not affect tax-exempt provisions of bonds which are backed by the full faith and credit of a state or municipality.

In other words, can be paid off from tax revenues. Revenue bonds are not a lien on taxes.

24 Escape Serious Injury When Airliner Crash-Lands

Buffalo, N. Y., (AP)—A twin-engine American Airlines Convair made a belly landing in a field yesterday just after taking off from Buffalo airport, and the 21 passengers and three crew members walked away from the wreck.

Six persons were injured, none seriously. Four were hospitalized, but two of these were discharged after treatment.

The passengers credited Flight Capt. Charles Hilborn of Buffalo, the pilot, with saving their lives. Hilborn was detained at a hospital for treatment of head cuts and body bruises. His condition was reported as fair.

The airline said one engine failed on takeoff of the flight to Detroit and Chicago.

The wheels-on landing occurred at 4:41 p.m. The plane did not burn.

Miss Patricia Dixon, 28, of Buffalo, the stewardess, told a newsman, "It all happened so rapidly it was pretty impossible to know just what did happen."

"I knew an engine had failed," she said, "but all I could think of was the 21 passengers. They were wonderful. There was no panic at all."

The flight normally originates in Boston, an airline official said, but started yesterday from Albany because of weather conditions.

One eyewitness said the left motor apparently quit when the plane had reached an altitude of 200 to 300 feet. He said the plane

More Cold Weather Is Due Today

By The Associated Press

Dense fog and a light rain closed over Pennsylvania once again after a brief glimpse of sunshine and milder weather marked the end of a severe cold wave yesterday.

The U. S. Weather Bureau at Philadelphia said a mass of cold air, the front edge running from Michigan southwest to central Texas as headed this way, though.

The cold air mass means overcoats and mufflers for Pennsylvanians this morning in the western section of the state and for eastern residents by nightfall.

In front of the cold air mass, a warm mass prevails over the Middle Atlantic area causing rain in the form of showers and thunderstorms. These will be dispelled by the cold air, the weather bureau reports.

A thick dense fog caused by rising temperatures and almost smothering humidity, covered most of the state yesterday. The fog which resembled a fall of rain, slowed traffic on ice glazed highways and caused at least one death.

The fog densities reported last night ranged from almost clear in downtown Philadelphia to zero visibility at Wilkes-Barre.

Demos Reported Healing Wounds

Washington (AP)—Sen. Holland (D-Fla.) said yesterday there has been a great improvement lately in relations between the national Democratic leadership and members of the party's Southern bloc.

With control of Congress to be fought out in the fall elections, Holland said he felt "The signs are encouraging for better cooperation within the party than they have been for months."

At the same time, Sen. Smathers (D-Fla.) announced that former Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois, the Democratic nominee for president in 1952, is expected to be the main speaker at a rally of southern Democrats in Miami Beach March 6.

Thick Fog Settles Over Region

The ceiling was zero—or maybe a little below—yesterday in Monroe County.

A thick, ominous blanket of fog obscured everything from landscapes to streetlights and doorways.

It was the thickest mass of fog to settle over the area in years. It some areas visibility from inside an auto was cut to a scant 15 or 20 feet with headlights on.

Pedestrians found the going even tougher—without high or low beams—in the same areas.

Believed to be hardest hit by fog were East Stroudsburg; routes between Delaware Water Gap, Minisink Hills, Portland and Foxtown Hill; highways through Mount Pocono and the Effort Mountain regions and Hamilton township.

Although the fog made travel on local highways a touchy proposition, poor visibility was only a part of the bitter pill motorists had to swallow.

Earlier in the day—beginning at midnight or 1 a.m. yesterday—Monroe County highways began glazing over in a thin sheet of ice caused by light, freezing rain. The rain drizzled in nearly all areas.

State highway department trucks took to the road at 1 a.m.; stayed out most of the day.

Slippery highways resulted in death to one Monroe man; severe injuries to others.

A total of 13 vehicles had been damaged in accidents as of 9 last night. All were involved in crashes traced to glassy roads.

Two of the accidents were four-car smashups.

State police at all five substations reported "very bad driving conditions" last night, due to the heavy fog.

Throughout yesterday morning rain continued to fall. Low temperatures kept highway workers in the field until late afternoon.

At 4 p.m. it was raining heavier than it had at any time during the day—but the mercury had zipped up to the plus-40s by 8 p.m. Utility company repairs, highway workers and homeowners could breathe a little easier—at least for a while.

Residents who watched the beginning of yesterday's fog and rain conditions with the memory of last January's severe ice storm hovering in their minds, could also take a rest.

At 9 p.m. the temperature stood at 45 degrees above zero in central Stroudsburg. All other county areas reported temperatures of 38 or above.

French Forces Retake Thakhek, Key Port City

Hanoi, Indochina (AP)—French Union forces recaptured the Mekong River port of Thakhek yesterday without firing a shot and sealed a big part of the gash the Communist-led Vietminh had cut across the narrow waist of Laos.

The strike by tanks and infantry, gunboats and Marine commandos served to lessen a Red threat to Thailand, across the Mekong, and open the way for resumption of river and road traffic between the north and south of Laos, one of the three associated states of Indochina.

Meanwhile, the Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission was called to meet at 1 a.m. EST. An Indian spokesman said it was quite possible the neutral body would discuss the plight of 349 pro-Red POWs including 21 Americans and one Briton whom the Communists refused to take back yesterday.

CAA Urges Grounding Of Arthur Godfrey For Buzzing Airport Tower During Take-Off

New York, (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Administration yesterday recommended that Arthur Godfrey be grounded for a while as a reckless flier.

The CAA also said his medical clearance to fly was not in order. A Washington spokesman at first claimed this would ground him immediately.

Later, however, the CAA backed down and conceded Godfrey can continue to fly unless and until he actually is suspended.

The Civil Aeronautics Board in Washington was asked to suspend Godfrey's pilot license for as long as necessary, in punishment for a wild Jan. 7 takeoff from Teterboro, N.J., airport.

Godfrey blamed a crosswind for his near miss of the Teterboro control tower in his private DC3 airplane. He said he did not deliberately buzz the tower, although he was displeased with his takeoff instructions. His plane

President's Trimmed-Down Federal Budget Scheduled To Reach Congress Today

Washington, (AP)—President Eisenhower sends to Congress today a trimmed down federal budget to finance the government through the 1955 fiscal year starting next July 1.

It will be the first complete budget in 21 years from a Republican administration and congressional leaders are predicting it will be around three billion dollars out of balance. Sen. Bridges (R-NH), chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee, said Jan. 3 that Eisenhower was aiming at holding the deficit within that figure.

Once again, the budget is bound to be heavy with expenditures for national defense, which now account for roughly two-thirds of all federal spending. But even this big program has been slashed substantially.

Eisenhower himself has said the administration can get more fighting power for less money through a "new look" defense policy placing the emphasis on air power and an assortment of atomic and other new weapons. As the administration sees it, this will make it possible to spend less for manpower and equipment.

A high administration authority disclosed last November that the Eisenhower team was working toward lopping between five and six billion dollars from next year's budget and it was obvious national security must share in any such reduction.

This official mentioned 3 1/2 or 4 billion as the likely slash in security spending.

21,809 Anti-Red Prisoners To Be Freed Friday Despite Communists' Objections

Panmunjom, Thursday, (AP)—Thousands of prisoners of war, returned to the Allies yesterday from India's neutral custody, sped on today toward a future offering a chance to serve as Nationalist China's and South Korea's anti-Communist armies.

The 21,809 Chinese and North Korean POWs who refused to return to their Red homelands will be freed as civilians by the U. N. Command at midnight Friday despite Communist objections.

At Seoul's port of Incheon, 10,000 Chinese POWs sailed this morning for Nationalist Formosa in a convoy of 10 U. S. Navy landing craft guarded by warships and planes.

Six more landing craft were standing by to take on the remaining Chinese, about 4,200. A port authority said they would put out to sea at 3:30 p.m., also under escort.

The first two trainloads of North Korean POWs arrived early today at the southeastern Korean port city of Pohang where they were greeted by cheering crowds. It is there the 7,582 Koreans will be invited to enlist in the South Korean army after Friday. Those who do so probably will find themselves side by side again with many if not most of the 26,000 Korean POWs who were freed last June by President Syngman Rhee while confined in Allied camps under South Korean guard.

The Communists in a broadcast by Red China's Peiping radio charged today that the return of the prisoners had "turned to shreds" the armistice.

"The Americans by overwhelming pressure maneuvered the Indian custodian force into adopting the illegal measure of turning back the POWs so as to achieve their purpose of retaining the POWs by force and turning them over to Syngman Rhee and Chiang Kai-shek as cannon fodder," Peiping said.

Meanwhile, the Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission was called to meet at 1 a.m. EST. An Indian spokesman said it was quite possible the neutral body would discuss the plight of 349 pro-Red POWs including 21 Americans and one Briton whom the Communists refused to take back yesterday.

Bulletin

Incheon, Korea, Thursday (AP)—A Japanese-manned landing craft rammed into a small boat in Incheon's outer harbor today, killing 3 U. S. Marines and injuring 23. At least 21 Marines were missing and feared drowned.

Navy rescue craft churned the chilly, choppy waters for the missing.

A Navy officer said a huge landing ship carrying Chinese prisoners of war crashed into a smaller landing craft carrying more than 50 Marines.

The 23 injured were taken aboard other ships for treatment.

Measure Sent To House By 51-33 Vote

Washington (AP)—Supporters of the St. Lawrence seaway, after 20 years of effort, last night won Senate approval of legislation to authorize the United States to join with Canada in building the controversial project.

Passage of the bill, which the pro-seaway forces had been freely predicting since the beginning of debate a week ago, came on a roll call vote with 51 senators voting yes and 33 no.

It was a bipartisan vote which gave President Eisenhower a victory in the first major item on his program to come before the Senate this session.

Twenty-five Republicans and 25 Democrats joined with the one Independent, Morse (Ind.-Ore.), to pass the bill. It was opposed by 18 Democrats and 15 Republicans.

The seaway, discussed for more than 50 years, would be a 27-foot-deep waterway in the St. Lawrence River from the Atlantic Ocean to the Great Lakes allowing ocean-going vessels to sail directly into lake ports.

The outcome became apparent after the bill's supporters beat down an amendment by Sen. Long (D-La.) that would have required the project to be financed through annual appropriations.

Then the Senate voted 51-32 against repealing the bill to committee, as proposed by Sen. Flinders (R-Vt.).

The House has yet to consider the bill.

The measure had the strong backing of President Eisenhower, his Cabinet, the National Security Council and the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Eisenhower said in his State of the Union message that the project now was needed for national defense as well as for economic reasons.

And Adm. Arthur Radford, chairman of the joint chiefs, said in a letter read on the Senate floor yesterday that the seaway was "necessary to the interests of national security" and said the joint chiefs "strongly" recommended passage of the bill.

The seaway has been traditionally opposed by east and Gulf Coast port cities, coal and railroad interests who claim it would divert business from them. The Senate had rejected bills to authorize it four times before over the last 30 years. The House has never voted on the proposal.

Under the present bill, the United States would build only that part of the seaway in the international rapids section of the St. Lawrence, Canada would build the remaining portions in its territory.

Estimated cost of the American share is 105 million dollars. The bill would set up a development corporation to issue bonds in that amount.

Washington (AP)—Sen. Edward Martin (R-Pa.) told the Senate yesterday the proposed St. Lawrence Seaway is a threat to the port of Philadelphia and to all of Pennsylvania.

Suspect Held In Slaying

Wyoming, (AP)—A Lehighton, Pa., man was held yesterday as a material witness in the Dec. 18 slaying of attractive Mrs. Dorothy Gilhoof, whose body was found outside the Harvey's Lake, Pa., Casino operated by members of her family.

Held in default of $5,000 bail yesterday was Paul Graver, described by Luzerne County Detective Joseph Miller as an employee of the Gilhoofs at the Casino.

The arraignment of Graver before Justice of the Peace W. Howell Evans here provided the first public break in the case since the woman's body was found.

Further details of Graver's arrest and the reasons behind it were not disclosed at his hearing but Miller did reveal for the first time that police believe Mrs. Gilhoof was slain at some other place and her body brought to the spot where it was found.

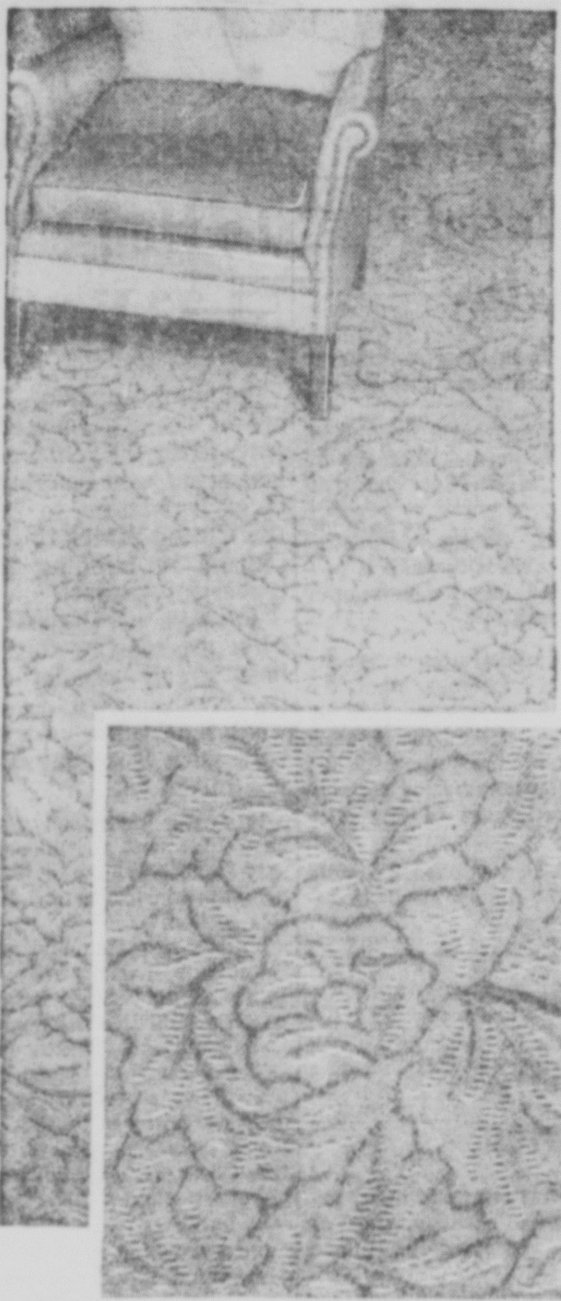

Graver was remanded to the Luzerne County Jail in default of bail. The body of Mrs. Gilhoof was found Dec. 18 at Harvey's Lake, 35 hours after she had left a cafe where she had been with Graver and others after a bingo game.

Sound Leadership - Good Credit

The Borough of Stroudsburg Tuesday night passed a rugged test of its credit standing in the nation when sewer authority bonds attracted a 2.85 per cent interest rate.

This rate, listed as the lowest for a sewer authority since last March, represents the "prime" rate in the authority bond market.

Such a rate could only have been attracted from the major financial houses of the nation by a municipality which showed excellent fiscal stability, coupled with strong industrial, retail and community banking dynamics.

Members of Stroudsburg Sewer Authority, selected by members of Stroudsburg council, have already demonstrated their administrative and sound financial judgment by rejecting some weeks ago a negotiated sale offer for the sewer bonds in favor of bidding on the open market. Their action saved over $35,000 in interest charges on the bonds because it attracted the lower interest rate.

All of this adds up to an assurance to the citizens of the community that they are part of a municipality which is one of the best places in which to live and work.

The Shoplifting Problem

The move to organize merchants in a drive to break up shoplifting here is long overdue. Revelations by E. H. Wyckoff indicate shoplifters have stolen many thousands of dollars in merchandise from local stores, and have been doing it for a long time.

This type of sneak-thievery is about the lowest form of crime and one which, when practiced by juveniles, leaves a deteriorating imprint on their usefulness as citizens in any community.

Mr. Wyckoff indicated shoplifters are either those who thrive on their ill-gotten gains, or those who are satisfying an urge to get away with something. In either case it is a blow at conservation of character and morality so badly needed these days.

Most shocking facet of shoplifting here is that scores of young boys and girls have been caught. The shopkeeper is automatically placed in a difficult position when this occurs, but we think these lectures on the evils of stealing just before the juvenile is freed, is wasted effort.

Some more drastic action must be taken in such cases, and that can best be done through a unified anti-shoplifting group such as Mr. Wyckoff proposed.

The National Health

President Eisenhower is quite as concerned about the health of the nation as any taxpayer is concerned over his individual well-being and that of his family, and he indicated this plainly in his specific recommendations to the Congress embodied in a special message.

With that sympathetic humanity which has engendered the affectionate regard for the President shared by millions of his fellow citizens, he described his conviction that a firm program is required, looking to the care of those whose very homes are threatened by catastrophic periods of illness and consequent expenses.

The President wants no part of "the socialization of medicine," as he strongly asserted, but he is of the belief that the government should commit itself to certain goals in the national health program.

Not only did he call for a type of program designed to aid those who find themselves in difficult circumstances through long periods of illness or unexpected afflictions, but he is convinced that the nation must exert itself to rehabilitate those many who are presently incapable of providing for themselves and consequently are a burden on the economy. These individuals, he contends, can be brought back to a useful life by an adequate program designed to restore them to a self-sufficiency.

The Once Over —by H. I. Phillips

Having taken plenty of time for our diagnosis and verdict in the Arthur Godfrey - Teterboro case, we prescribe a short flight around a competent psychiatrist's office on a couch.

The guy is sick, and after what he's been thru who wouldn't be?

There are no laughs in anything conducive to a frightful airplane tragedy and nothing amusing in the violation (intentional or unintentional) of rules governing take-offs from busy airfields. Gags and giggles over a national network in relation to such matters are out of bounds. Derivative cracks at national, state and city boards, whose first duty is to make flying safe, are hard to take. Arthur Godfrey in 29 years on the airwaves, and as a flier, never followed that pattern of behavior until now. Natural conclusion: Arthur is ill.

A harrowing operation, a slow recovery, plenty of daily pain and increasing nervous strain, as a result of trying to do too much for too many, don't leave any man "in the pink." They make anybody touchy and irascible, and change his normal reactions. Which is why this column thinks the big guy needs a rest. Could be that the C. A. B. and New York Port Authority probes should be supplemented by a Psychiatrist Committee and a National Friends of Arthur Godfrey Board. Something's wrong with any public figure and top entertainer when he makes jokes of hair-raising airplane incidents which jar a nation, seeks laughs on his description of the speed with which brave men left a tower, and asks scornfully of an appointed airport official, "Who is that guy? Maybe he will run for governor on this."

Godfrey has done great things for aviation up to now. On his 19-year record we would drop the matter by grounding his ukelele, suspending his pipe-smoking il-lence (after all these years of getting us to smoke cigarettes) and ordering him to read "How to Win Friends and Influence People" all over again. But on his recent behavior, beginning with the LaRosa case and entailing almost an all-out effort to get a bad press, we wouldn't dismiss it so lightly.

Arthur is 50, reaching an age when a man doesn't find any job as easy as it used to be. He's had it tough in that hip affliction. He's lost one of his big sponsors. Put on top of that the fact that any man, after decades of adulation and eminence, is apt to get a little "puffy." Lastly, he works as if he thought himself a pack mule instead of a human being. This can make a nervous wreck of a guy. All of which may explain why a fellow who has won the hearts of millions of Americans, through good humor and gentle routines, should all of a sudden "burst out all over," breaking rules, thumbing his nose at authority, belittling critics and even making the low crack that the newspapers reported the Teterboro incident because "there was little news and they had to do something to make headlines." Anyhow, it's nerves, Buster. Induced by pain, worry, overwork, tension, easy money, too much applause between commercials and that sudden switch to a pipe. Rest up, kid, and then be nice like you used to be!

America will sell no butter to Russia, as proposed, at a price far below what Americans have to pay. Anyhow, Russia wouldn't take it unless it got butter knives and bread-lead-lease. Housewives are screaming over that proposal in Ike's social security plan that they fill out forms even for a snail hired only one day a week, if she gets over $4. There hasn't been a maid available for housework for $4 since the Battle of Bull Run. The biggest boat at the National Motorboat Show in New York, a cruiser costing $90,000 was bought by an official of a Connecticut paper-box company. Tired of being all boxed up, no doubt

Robert S. Allen Reports

Chinese Mass Jet Fighters Close To Indo-China Line

Washington — There is a new sinister menace in Red-berled Indo-China. The Chinese are massing jet fighters close to that border.

According to first-hand intelligence, already an estimated 100 Russian MIG-15s have been installed on newly-built airfields within a relatively short distance of crucial fighting.

Also, additional fields are under construction and large amounts of fuel and other air supplies are being brought in. The Chinese used MIGs in the Korean war, and apparently are shifting squadrons from Manchurian bases to the Indo-China border.

This ominous development is taking place in the face of Secretary of State Dulles' recent grim warning that direct Chinese intervention in this war would lead to American retaliation against the Chinese mainland.

The new situation confronts the French with a double peril. Not only does it gravely endanger their already hard-pressed ground forces, but the Chinese jets could drive the French from the air as they are not equipped with jet aircraft.

All French planes in Indo-China are World War II propeller-type, supplied by the U. S. as part of its large-scale military aid in this protracted struggle against Communist aggression. The French have repeatedly asked for American F-86 jets, which piled up heavy scores against the Russian MIGs in Korea. But so far none of these modern planes have been thrown into the desperate Indo-China fighting.

But the head of the Joint Chiefs expressed confidence that the French can eventually defeat the Reds.

"If we will continue our aid on the present scale," Radford told the senators, "I believe the French can break the back of this Communist aggression in two years. It will take that long because only now the French are getting the full benefit of the great amounts of equipment we are sending them. I view the struggle in Indo-China very much like the one against the Communists in Greece. That was a long and hard fight, but in the end American weapons turned the tide."

"What is the likelihood of the Chinese intervening in this war?" asked Senator John Sherman Cooper (R., Ky.).

Radford conceded that "danger is always present," but doubted the Chinese would actually commit their own troops as they did in Korea. He held the Chinese as "suffering great internal difficulties" and that is a powerful deterrent.

Radford also reported the Russians are actively assisting the Chinese to modernize their armies. Chinese plans call for the creation of 150 well-equipped and full-strength divisions.

More Red moves - This is the first time the Chinese have massed air forces in this highly critical area.

The development is clearly a direct result of the Korean truce. Previously, the Chinese had concentrated a number of divisions on their border, and also operated training camps for the Communist Vietnam. But bringing in aircraft is a new move.

There are others which are also obvious aftermaths of the Korean armistice. Chief among them publishable at this time are:

Equipping the Vietnam with types of artillery they never had before. Prominent among them are numerous anti-aircraft guns, which are being deployed to safeguard Red supply depots and communications lines. These new weapons already have cost the French a number of planes and pilots.

Increasing munitions and other supplies to the Vietnam from 2,000 to 5,000 tons a month. This has not only greatly boosted the offensive strength of the Reds, but has multiplied French difficulties.

George Sokolsky Says...

Failure To Pass Bricker Amendment May Split Republican Party At Critical Time

Ours is a continuous government in the sense that a new Administration continues the policies of its predecessor until, with the consent of Congress, they are replaced.

The pollsters, reporting that Eisenhower remains popular, doubt that the Republicans can hold their tiny majority in Congress. For the Republicans, a defeat in 1954 could be preferable to the present status in which they are held responsible while being in a minority in the Senate with a bare majority in the House of Representatives.

If Eisenhower is to be able to function effectively, he needs a Republican majority in the Congress. Our system requires two parties and that the President should belong to one of them. A bipartisan President is not in the American system and efforts to establish such an order must fail and add to our confusion.

No pollster, by whatever mathematical formula, can in January estimate what the people will do at the polls in November. Nor is any one of them so prophetic as to be able to foretell the course of events, not only in the United States but throughout the world, during the next 10 months. Therefore, the pollsters' guesses, implemented by adding machines, mean no more than yours or mine.

It is true that Eisenhower was elected on the slogan, "It is time for a change." Whether the voters meant a change in personalities or policies, they did not give the new President a Congress sufficiently of his own partisanship to make such a change immediately effective. If it was to be a change in personalities, he found himself hampered by phony Civil Service policies and the really important Veterans' preferences.

In the area of changing policies, Eisenhower could take the initiative. But his inheritance of more than 20 years of expanding government, exorbitant taxes, profligate expenditures and a confusing pursuit of improvised policies, often conflicting, burdened him with continuing responsibilities which he had to pursue while planning changes. This is in the nature of a paradox, normal to our system.

For the second session of the 83rd Congress, President Eisenhower has presented a systematic program designed to attack some of the problems facing this nation, such as the excessive cost of government, the modernization of the armed services, the rationalization of farm prices, etc. How much of this program will be passed by the time the November elections take place, nobody can at the moment tell.

Valuable time can be wasted in Congress. This might best be exemplified in the recent attempt to create an impasse over Senator Joe McCarthy. It was a wholly unrealistic diversion that could have postponed the consideration of the Eisenhower program by a month. It failed.

And now another little business is developing over the effort of the Democratic Senators, who walked out of the Subcommittee on Investigations, to return to it without loss of face. They are very anxious to return and are negotiating secretly and indirectly to get back but on conditions which even if McCarthy were to agree to them would be meaningless except for face-saving. The only sensible procedure for them is to walk in through the same door that they walked out.

They would prefer for McCarthy to send them gold-plated invitations, which he is not called upon to do. Senator Carl Hayden is trying to make a fuss over this, but he can accomplish nothing except to delay the Eisenhower program to the disadvantage of the country.

Another confusing factor is the Bricker Amendment, which the people want but which the President and the State Department do not want. Public opinion is so insistent on the passage of the Bricker Amendment that the opposition to it may lose a month of time, if not more. Failure to pass the Bricker Amendment may effectively split the Republican Party at a critical moment when all elements in it seek union behind the Eisenhower program.

It is unfortunate that so strong an opposition to the Bricker Amendment manifests itself in the White House because after Congress passes it, the proposal must go to 48 State Legislatures for acceptance before it can become law. Why tie-up Congress this year over it, when the battle for or against it must still be fought in the State Legislatures? After all, if its opponents fear immediate ratification by the State Legislatures, are they not opposing the people's will?

Looking At Life —by Erich Brandeis

A New York minister recently asked the members of his congregation to tell him whether, if they could live their lives over again, they would live them differently or the same as they are doing now.

To make sure that they would not just give him a lot of blarney, he asked them to sign their names to the replies.

The answers that came in were amazing. Not one of the writers was satisfied with his present way of living. Some of them would be more charitable; others would go to church more regularly; still others would be more brotherly, more tolerant and more sympathetic.

The story was published in the New York newspapers and brought the following letter, which I quote in part.

"I would not change one iota. I relish the memory of each episode of my life, and am thankful for it. I rejoice in that I did the best I could with the talents entrusted to me."

That is exactly the way I feel, and I believe that is the way most of us feel.

If we were really so anxious to follow the quails of our conscience and if we REALLY intended to live different lives if we "could live our lives over again," why didn't we do so as we went along, and why do we have to wait for another life to become the kind of persons we WANT to be?

Is there anything to prevent us from leading different lives right NOW while we are still alive, instead of just dreaming about it?

With 1954 hardly begun, isn't there ample opportunity for us to be more charitable, more religious, more brotherly, more tolerant, more sympathetic?

But you know what New Year's resolutions are. Here today, forgotten tomorrow. To too many of us life is just one continuous hangover. We know darn well that what we do is wrong, but we haven't the guts to stop.

Tobyhanna Citizens Form Civic Betterment Organization

To Promote Better Ties With Depot

Tobyhanna—Representatives of eight civic and fraternal organizations here met with officers from the Signal Corps Depot to organize a Citizens' Group for Community Betterment.

P. D. Frankenfield, Lions Club president, served as chairman until a regular election of officers is held by the group.

The group is made up of the president and two members from each organization represented. Also included in the group will be depot commander Col. William M. Mack and two other officers.

Prime purpose of the group is to "promote progress in the community, to iron out problems arising from the relationship between the depot and the community—such as school and housing problems."

A 15-point agenda was proposed for consideration by the group. They included public utilities—water, sewage, telephone—zoning, industries, fire and police protection, traffic problems, medical care, declaration of a critical defense area.

Organizational leaders present included: Joseph Rice, Civic League; Allen Pope, township supervisor; James H. Fruthe, PTA; William Leonard, of the fire company; Rev. George J. Jordan, St. Ann's Church; and Col. John L. Leidenheimer, U. S. Signal Corps procurement and distribution chief, Washington, D. C., who was among the five men representing the depot.

A nominating committee was appointed—John Piontek, Joseph Rice and Nick Fidorick—to present a slate for elections Feb. 3, at the Flaherty building.

Number Of 'Unchurched' Growing, Methodists Told

Buck Hill Falls—There are more people living where churches are not effectively established than in any other period in American history, a leading Methodist official said yesterday.

Dr. Elliott L. Fisher, executive secretary of the Section of Home Missions, Methodist Church, addressed the group's board of trustees at the organization's annual meeting.

Dr. Fisher said that despite increased membership of the churches, more than 60 million Americans "are not members of any church, Protestant, Catholic or Jewish." He attributed the failure to incorporate this large segment of the population in the churches to the mobility of Americans.

"In a recent year 31,000,000 Americans changed their place of residence—one out of every five in this country," Dr. Fisher said. "It has been estimated that seven out of ten of those who moved this past year will be on the move again within five years. America has a vast 'displaced' population."

"Communities continue to spring up overnight and in hundreds no provision is made for a spiritual ministry. In many areas where the church is already established the ministry is ineffective because of inadequate equipment and resources—unable to reach the teeming population at their very doorstep," he said.

"In the face of a limited income, we are doing our best to meet challenges such as these, but we have had to turn down dozens of requests from almost every section of the country. This means we will not be able to start new work in growing rural areas, in Alaska and Hawaii, and in cities where we find a large influx of people," Dr. Fisher said, in an appeal for increased mission aid to meet new

105 Pints Of Blood Given Here; Deficit Is Now 116 Pints, Red Cross Reports

Monroe County fell 20 pints short of its regular monthly quota in blood collection yesterday and failed to make a slight dent in a 96-pint backlog.

According to a Red Cross spokesman 105 pints of blood were donated during the Bloodmobile's day-long visit to East Stroudsburg Elks Club.

A monthly quota of 125 pints had been set. An overall quota of 221 pints, including the deficit, was needed.

The Elks Club visit was arranged on short notice, however. Until last week, Bloodmobile was scheduled to stop at the Tobyhanna Signal Corps Depot.

Inadequate preparations forced the depot to postpone the scheduled visit there to Feb. 23, Red Cross officials announced.

Weather conditions further hampered the effort to bring blood donors into the borough yesterday.

Despite freezing rain and sleet, however, one of the donors—a woman—made a trip to East Stroudsburg from Effort.

Groups of donors appeared from Line Material, Waring Enterprises, Ronson Corp., Bell Telephone Co., Worthington Mover Co., and East Stroudsburg Lumber Co., a Red Cross spokesman said.

Loss Placed At $1,950 In Two Crashes

Bartonsville—A tractor-trailer truck jackknifed on Route 12 a half-mile south of here at 7:30 a.m. yesterday tying up traffic for several hours, and while travel was being detoured, a car skidded on the icy road and smashed into two cars parked awaiting the road opening.

Fog and slippery conditions caused the truck, operated by Thomas P. Boland, Scranton, to jackknife. Boland, 33, told Stroudsburg state police he tried to stop quickly after spotting another truck stalled on the hill about 100 feet ahead.

Boland's truck veered off the road with the tractor plunging through a State Highway Department guard fence and down a short embankment. The trailer remained on the highway, blocking passage. Damage was estimated at $800.

Police placed flares to the south and north of the accident scene at 7:30 a.m. and the highway department spread cinders over the area.

As traffic was being re-routed over side roads a car operated by Donald T. Thompson, 41, of Penn Wynne, Philadelphia, and traveling north, skidded on the wet road. It crashed into the rear of a car owned by J. Robert Gravel, N. Fifth St., Stroudsburg, and the Gravel auto was shoved into the rear of another car owned by Stewart and Clara Fabel, Stroudsburg RD2.

Howard VanCampen, Stroudsburg RD3, operating the Fabel car, and Gravel were standing on the road watching proceedings as efforts were made to free the jackknifed truck.

Thompson bruised his wrist in the chain crash, police said, but received no treatment. There were no other injuries.

Damage to Thompson's car was estimated at $700; to Gravel's auto, about $300, and to the Fabel vehicle, about $150.

Truck Passenger Injured In Four-Vehicle Collision On Effort Mountain Highway

Fern Ridge—Four vehicles collided five miles south of here on the Effort Mountain yesterday at 7:30 a.m. resulting in extensive damages to the vehicles and sending one man to the General Hospital, East Stroudsburg.

State police here identified drivers of two tractor-trailer trucks in the crash as John T. Skuvaria, 27, Wilkes-Barre, and David Hawkins, 27, of Philadelphia. Other vehicles were a station wagon operated by Napoleon Norwillo, 49, Wilkes-Barre, and small truck driven by Joseph V. Sherman, 32, of Haddonfield, N. J.

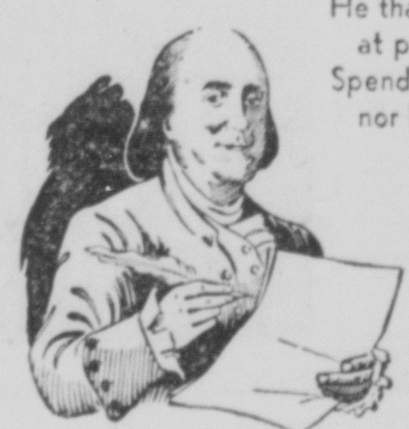

Here's the way police described the collision:

Skuvaria's truck and Norwillo's station wagon were stopped on Route 115 because of a traffic jam ahead, caused by fog and wet road conditions.

The truck operated by Hawkins jackknifed while attempting to stop, crashing into the rear of the Skuvaria's truck and the station wagon. Then the smaller truck operated by Sherman went into a skid, plowing into all three vehicles. All were traveling south. Passenger in the Sherman truck, Jack Aber, 28, of Haddonfield, N. J., was taken to the General Hospital by ambulance. He was admitted with cuts of the head and possible dislocated right hip.

John S. Rice Mentioned For Governor

Philadelphia, (AP)—The name of John S. Rice, Gettysburg apple farmer and packer, was advanced yesterday as a possible Democratic gubernatorial candidate.

The 55-year-old Rice, who made a previous unsuccessful bid for the post in 1946 against U. S. Sen. James H. Duff, said he "hasn't been approached."

Asked if he would be available for the nomination if it were offered, Rice said "I haven't given that much consideration and wouldn't want to comment on the topic at this time."

He refused to either flatly put himself in or take himself out of the race.

Meanwhile, Philadelphia Mayor Joseph S. Clark Jr., said at his weekly press conference that Dist. Atty. Richardson Dilworth, the party's nominee in 1950, is receiving support in all the state's counties except one—his own city of Philadelphia.

But Clark added, "by the time nominations for governor close, I'm sure Philadelphia will be climbing onto the bandwagon."

Philadelphia Judge Curtis Bok, also mentioned as a possible candidate, said he had been approached but wasn't interested now in seeking the nomination.

Milk Tanker Crash Causes $800 Damages

Saylorsburg—About $800 damages resulted south of here early Tuesday night when a large milk tanker turned over on Route 115. State police of Stroudsburg who investigated identified the driver as Lynn E. Thomas, Troy, Pa. He told police the truck went into a skid on the wet road when he tried to stop after seeing a motorist ahead putting chains on his car wheels.

Thomas escaped without injury.

Two Treated For Injuries

Two persons were treated for accidental injuries in the General Hospital dispensary Tuesday. They were:

Joseph McInerney, Analomink, who ripped a fingernail of his left index finger while working at Hughes Printing Co., East Stroudsburg.

Daniel Alberts, 12, of Sciota, suffered a cut lip in a home accident.

DeOtte Named President Of Dairy Group

The newly-organized Stroudsburg local of Lehigh Valley Co-operative Farmers was held last night in the new East Stroudsburg branch building.

Officers were elected for the new year. Donald F. DeOtte, Stroudsburg RD1, was named president; Jerome Blakeslee, Stroudsburg RD2, was elected vice president, and Donald Meitzler, Kunkletown, was named secretary-treasurer.

Named to the advisory committee were Blakeslee, Meitzler, DeOtte, Norman Courtright, Alvin Dreisbach, Archie Heller, T. J. Thompson, C. H. Haney, W. C. Wicks, Theodore Bush, Adam Kuehner, Russell Bittenbender, Robert Neyhart, Harvey Stroble, Charles Huhn and John Anderson.

Glenn Boger, president of the dairy cooperative and general manager of its overall operations, spoke to the group.

Boger described the area cooperative's work as "encouraging" during the past year, but noted that "tremendous" surpluses on the national scene made the general picture less encouraging for the cooperative plan.

Arthur Ifft, Monroe County agricultural agent, discussed the county's brucellosis program. Members of the cooperative inspected the new branch office following the close of the meeting.

Care Of Exceptional Child To Be Aired By Educators

Six Monroe County residents and a moderator from Lehigh University will conduct a discussion of education's role in the development of the "exceptional child" tonight at Pocono High School in Tannersville.

All local persons who are interested in any phase of modern education are urged to attend the meeting, according to Allen Sterner, president of the county chapter, Pennsylvania State Education Association.

PSEA is sponsoring tonight's discussion for which Dr. Robert L. Norris, of the Lehigh University education department, will serve as moderator.

Panel members are Harriet Sebring, Mrs. Wendy Mazer, Bennett Strait, Andrew Lewis, Mrs. Camille Harvey and Nathan Kunkle.

During recent years the State legislature has taken into consideration the hundreds of children within the Commonwealth whose needs have not previously been provided by local education facilities.

An outgrowth of this new consideration has been the training school system now beginning in the State. Monroe County's Day Care Training Center was one of the pioneer units of this type in Pennsylvania.

The PSEA meeting will begin at 8 p. m. Discussion is slated for 8:30 p. m., according to Sterner.

Welty Named Member Of Milk Agency

Harrisburg (AP)—Gov. John S. Fine yesterday completed membership of the three-man State Milk Control Commission with the appointment of Benjamin Harrison Welty, Waynesboro.

At the same time, the governor named Joseph Welles Henderson, Philadelphia attorney and acting president of Bucknell University, as a member of the Delaware River Port Authority.

Welty's appointment fills the long-standing vacancy left by the resignation of P. Stephen Stahlacker to join the Public Utility Commission. Welty's salary will be $10,000 a year.

Both appointments are subject to confirmation by the state Senate in the 1955 session.

Welty, long prominent in dairy farm and milk organizational activities, will serve until the end of the next session of the senate, or until May 1, 1955, whichever comes first.

Taunt a leopard
with a feather...

DON'T drive fast in icy weather!

Anyone who thinks that wild leopards are any more of a hazard than icy streets has another thought coming:

Right now is a fine time to have it come, too:

Because there aren't any leopards around, that we know of, but Winter is all over the place. And Winter can conjure up a whole mess of ways to get a driver's neck broken, besides icy streets. Take ice on your windshield. Or blinding sleet and snow. Or the long hours of darkness that always mean more treacherous going.

Seems like everybody ought to give a second thought to his safety this Winter. It's so easy.

Drive at slower speeds. Treacherous Winter going often makes the safe speed far lower than the legal limit posted for dry, clear weather.

Use tire chains to increase control of your car on ice and snow, and to shorten the distance required for safe, sure stops.

Keep bright at night. Winter means less daylight, extra hours of driving in the dark. Make up for it by extra alertness at the wheel. Keep that windshield free from streaks and traffic grime. Make sure your headlights are bright and that your defroster and windshield wipers are working.

To weather this winter...

DRIVE CAREFULLY... the life you save may be your own!

Employers Issuing Tax Forms

Employers were reminded yesterday by the district director of internal revenue, Joseph J. Lawler, that they must issue Form W-2 (tax withholding statements) to all their employees by Jan. 31.

Mr. Lawler further said that employees must have their W-2 forms before they can file income tax returns for 1953. Penalties are provided for the employer's failure to issue them on time. The taxpayer must file his return by March 15.

Forms are furnished to the employers by the Internal Revenue office at Scranton. The employers show the total wages paid to employees during 1953 and the amount of income tax and social security tax withheld from their wages.

For many salaried persons this is the principal information needed in order to file an income tax return on Form 1040 or Form 1040A, according to Mr. Lawler.

Mr. Lawler reminded employers that they must issue a W-2 form to each employee whose income was subject to withholding, and also to any employee who would have been subject to withholding if he had only one exemption. "This means, for example, that an employee with three exemptions, earning $38 a week, would not have been subject to tax withholding, because of his extra exemptions, but his employer is required to prepare and give him a Form W-2 showing how much wages he received," Mr. Lawler explained.

Employers, who must file certain tax returns with the Internal Revenue Service by Jan. 31, will have an extra day to file this year because Jan. 31 falls on a Sunday.

Feb. 1 is, therefore, the deadline for employers to file their last quarterly return declaring income and social security taxes withheld and to pay withheld taxes to the Internal Revenue Service by cash or depository bank receipts.

Employers of more than eight workers are also required to file their annual Federal unemployment tax return by Feb. 1.

The number of horses on U. S. farms was reduced from 25 million in 1910 to around 5½ million in 1953.

AUTOMOTIVE GLAMOR is evident in the streamlined styling and low silhouette of this 1954 Oldsmobile Super "88" Holiday coupe. With a road height of only 59¼ inches, the Super "88" Holiday offers the ultimate in luxury and ultra-modern design. The chassis has been completely redesigned to assure adequate road clearance. The panoramic windshield, inspired by custom sports car styling, provides full forward vision without any obstructing cornerposts. A graceful dip in the body belt line where it meets the door opening is another sports car flair. Total glass area is 221 sq. in. greater than the comparable 1953 model. The low contour hood covers a more powerful 185-h.p. "Rocket" engine with 8.25 to 1 compression ratio. Hydra-Matic Drive, power steering, power brakes, are optional. 1954 Oldsmobile models were on display at Mikels Motors, Inc., 1061 N. Ninth St., starting today.

Mrs. Bessie Hauser, who caught her finger in the roller of her washing machine last week suffering injury which required several stitches at the General Hospital is recovering.

The meeting of the Official Board of Cherry Lane Church, scheduled for Friday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hallett has again been postponed due to the injury Mrs. Hallett suffered when she slipped on ice. She received abrasions of the leg which required medical treatment.

Considering the condition of roads in the section there was a good turnout at Sunday School in the Methodist Church Sunday. Members of the choir met at the home of Mrs. Lucy Hartman, the pianist, last week for rehearsal. Mrs. Hartman is recovering from an accident. Her car skidded on the icy Analomink hill while she and her daughter were enroute to East Stroudsburg to attend Sunday School at the Methodist Church where Mrs. Hartman teaches a class.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Individuals are having their troubles this month. If it isn't snow, it's ice; and if it isn't ice, it's fog. Organizations, of course, inherit the accumulated troubles of the individual members.

There are two schools of thought on what to do about meetings in January with both groups agreeing on one major tenet: "Never schedule outside speakers in January or February."

One group would eliminate January meetings entirely and go into a semi-hibernation. They point out that June, with usually perfect weather, could be substituted for January on the club calendar.

The other group figures that while attendance at meetings may be small in bad weather, it's usually pretty enthusiastic because only if you care a lot about an organization will you leave your warm fireside.

And besides on a day like yesterday, with the fog closing in around each home, and the streetlights only a halo, and the steady drip of melting snow on the roof making a dismal sound, they think that meetings are sort of cozy, and that members draw closer together in shared adversity.

We might put it up to a referendum, though I can guess right now how the gardeners and golfers would vote. Well, it's a thought, anyway.

Declare a moratorium on meetings and we'll all head South.

Clearview PTAS Schedules Many Events

A demonstration on the value of good nutrition in rats, presented by fifth grade students of the Clearview School, at the Clearview Parent-Teachers Association on Monday night had its practical aspects as the PTA heard further details of the hot lunch program at the school. The experiment was reported in full in yesterday's Daily Record.

The seven basic nutritional needs are balanced in the hot lunches served at the school providing not only nutrition but teaching the children the value of good foods.

In discussing the hot lunch program Raymond Harding announced that beginning February 1, the price of the hot lunch will be 21 cents a day instead of 20 cents, to make up for the one cent cut in the state subsidy of the program.

Edwin Buck presided at the business meeting when plans were made for a bake sale to be held at Wyckoff's on Friday, February 12 at 9:30 a.m. Mrs. John Baylor has full instructions for anyone wishing to contribute.

Plans were also discussed for a square dance to be sponsored by the PTA in the school gym on Friday, February 26. A donation will be accepted at the door. Refreshments will be sold and there will be entertainment and a cake walk. Music will be furnished by the Pocono Hillbillies.

Many mothers in the Clearview PTA are taking an active part in the Mothers' March on Polio next Tuesday night, it was announced.

A report on the home nursing course, now in its third week at the school was given. The course presented by the Red Cross with Mrs. Thomas Shoemith and Mrs. John Stanford in charge is sponsored by the PTA.

Plans were also considered for a rummage sale from the Trading Post of the school. Donations may be left at the school or will be called for by Mrs. Robert Hellman or Mrs. John Schoonover.

Two pianos have been donated to the school, it was announced, and two more are needed. Anyone who has a piano to donate may call the principal, Raymond Harding, or Edwin Buck or William Schiebel.

Total membership of the Clearview PTA is now 127, it was announced.

Church care for the month is the assignment of Mrs. Richard Leies and Mrs. Arthur Kresge. Mrs. Elwood Warner will be hostess to the group at her home for the February meeting, when each member attending is asked to bring an individual dessert of her own choosing, to be exchanged at refreshment time with some one else; Mrs. Warner will serve the beverages.

A quilt is to be worked on at the Leies home this week, the second one to be done since the holidays, the first having been quilted at the Werkheiser home.

THE Wyckoff SHOPPER

A permanent wave is always something of an adventure. That was true when I was twelve years old and mother paid twenty dollars to have me bound up in a series of corkscrew curls that were evident only if I was willing to return to the beauty parlor every few days for a "set." It is still an adventure today, when a good cold wave costs only a fraction of that amount here at Wyckoff's, and gives curls that will retain much of their springiness until they are lopped off to make way for another permanent six months hence.

Somewhere or other I once read that the women of ancient Rome had their permanents too. Some kind of clay was plastered on the hair, and it was wound up and allowed to dry in the sun. How long it remained I wouldn't know—but probably not more than five minutes if the wearer was at all fastidious. There's only one thing good to be said for those ancient coiffures. They were probably dirt cheap, and only a muddy duddy would have been caught dead with one.

Times and styles have undoubtedly changed, thank goodness. "Packs" was reminiscent yesterday about the sensation created by the machineless wave just a few years ago. Prior to its coming, we women had allowed ourselves to be wound up in wires made shock proof by thick layers of rubber placed next to the scalp. . . . I remember, I remember . . . and there we would sit, literally suspended from the machine, come sleet or high water. As I recall, I never once was attached to one of those gruesome looking gadgets without thinking, "This is just how it must feel to be strapped in the electric chair." But to get back to the machineless wave—Packs says the best advertisement he could have had for the new, much-discussed machineless method, was the customer who insisted in waiting down to the tea room to have lunch while the lotions were working their magic. There she sat, eating a salad, with her hair all wound tight, and concealed under the big, pointed hood such as Red Riding Hood wore.

I noticed another innovation yesterday. Instead of the ordinary paper cap that was once fitted over the head between curlers and plastic hood, I was wrapped in aluminum. This my mother should see. Right now our family probably owns more aluminum foil than the Reynolds manufacturing company—thanks to "Mr. Peepers." Every time we tune in of a Sunday evening, Rex Marshall introduces us to a new use for aluminum—so we bake in it, occasionally serve in it, use it lavishly in the refrigerator, and keep foods fresh with it under varied conditions. I am sure it would have delighted my folks to see me with my head wrapped in it. Frankly, I felt somewhat like a casserole of baked beans, or a coconut cake in danger of drying out. Anyway, as I said in the beginning, it's always an adventure to have a permanent. If you don't believe me, why not make an appointment now, and see for yourself. Just see if a new coiffure won't do for you all that a sirlin sleek smothered in onions will do for the man in your house. Hmmm. I like steak too!

Kiwanis Club Marks 39th Anniversary

The 39th anniversary of the founding of Kiwanis International was observed by the Stroudsburg Club at the Penn-Stroud Hotel yesterday afternoon. J. Richard Altom, program chairman, was in charge.

He read the anniversary week message of Donald T. Forsythe, president of International, whose theme was "A Birthday Wish" to the 220,000 members of 3710 clubs in the United States and Canada.

That wish was: "To grow in strength and influence so that we can face more resolutely our appointed task; serving as the builders of better communities and guardians of freedom."

Bennie Bergmann, basketball coach at Muhlenberg College, scheduled speaker, was detained by the weather conditions and a Christopher film, with Ben Hogan, Bing Crosby, Ralph Kiner, Bob Hope and other sports figures, also Father James Keller, was shown with Wilmer B. Frisbie operating the projector.

A letter from the local branch of BPW was read asking cooperation in the Mothers' March of Dimes, honoring the late Miss Helen Kulp, originator of the project here.

Another communication invited the club to attend the meeting sponsored by the Monroe County Interchurch Laymen's Council at Stroudsburg Methodist Church Friday, at 7:30 p. m.

Morris H. Evans, membership chairman, presented Capt. Charles Baker, head of the East Stroudsburg Salvation Army chapter, as a new member. He was welcomed by the president, Dr. C. W. Dupee.

Capt. Baker is a former member of the Malone, N. Y., Kiwanis Club. Dr. Earl Willhoite and Numa J. Snyder were in charge of the song period.

Visiting Kiwanians welcomed were Charles McCaney, of Berea, O., and J. Donald Hogg, of Cleveland, O. Three Key Clubbers were also present, Howard Blakeslee, Karl Weingartner and Walter Adelman.

Other guests were: James Riley, sports editor, The Daily Record; Jerry Stulgaitis, a Stroudsburg High School coach; Ted Hoffman, Marshalls Creek, and Arthur H. Stinson, eldest son of Rev. and Mrs. Roger C. Stinson, just returned after serving two and a half years with the State Department in Berlin, Germany.

Club members signed a get-well card for Harold Leininger, a former club president, who is a patient at Allentown General Hospital recuperating from a heart attack suffered nearly two weeks ago.

Slate Belt Area Schools To Discuss Jointure At Bangor Meeting Tonight

Bangor—Possible jointure of six Slate Belt school districts will be studied at 8 tonight at Bangor High School.

Sparked by consistent overcrowded conditions in existing school buildings, school directors are now carrying on a survey of the benefits to be found in joining together for school purposes.

The boards are Bangor, East Bangor, Roseto Boroughs and Upper Mount Bethel, Lower Mount Bethel and Washington Townships.

At tonight's meeting each board will be asked to give an idea of where it stands on the jointure proposal. Solicitors for all six boards have been asked to attend the meeting.

Also slated to attend is Robert N. Taylor, Northampton County school superintendent. Taylor will attempt to answer questions arising about jointure during the meeting.

The six districts involved in the jointure study have a current school population of 2,300 or more. Enrollments are expected to zoom upward during the coming five-year period, however.

All six districts are operating educational facilities under congested conditions.

Slippery Road Conditions Close Schools

Portland—Portland public school and Roseto parochial elementary and high schools were closed yesterday after bus drivers reported roads too hazardous to drive.

Pupils attending Bangor and East Bangor schools from the rural areas also stayed at home. All secondary roads in upper Northampton County were reported extremely slippery due to freezing rain.

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

In opening today's bit of chit-chat it might be a good idea to point out that John Kupiec, Stroudsburg High basketball coach, isn't a superstitious man. He's quiet, without emotion and is the first to relate that good luck omens are strictly for the birds. It was just a coincidence that John had both hands jammed deep into his suit coat pockets on Tuesday, as his Mountaineers rallied to sink Northampton, with all five fingers of his left hand wrapped tightly around a rabbit's foot.

Regardless of whether or not the rabbit's foot played any sort of part in Tuesday's victory over Northampton, it is a safe bet that Kupiec will retain possession of the hare limb until such time as he figures it has outlived its usefulness. The good luck omen must have had something to do with Stroudsburg's second victory in five Lehigh Valley League outings, as the Mountaineers rallied to gain the verdict just when it appeared as if the maroon and white color bearers were going to allow the Konkrete Kids to snatch victory out of the air, after the home town forces had held the upper hand throughout the battle.

Stroudsburg started and finished like the same team that played so brilliantly against Catawauqua, Whitehall and Statington in that order. But, in between the early portion of the first stanza and the fading moments of the last quarter the Mountaineers had their troubles. Although all home town fans were pleased with the outcome of the game, it was evident that Stroudsburg had played much better while losing to such powers as Whitehall and Statington. The Mountaineers appear to frown on big leads and apparently like to operate with small advantages, so as to treat the paying customers to thrilling finishes.

Northampton's defense seemed to bother the Kupiecmen somewhat, but when the chips were down and the W. Main St. tenants had to come through, they did so with flying colors. The hair raising shooting of Dick Little, the pair of payoff field goals by Dave Nevill and Doug Shook's improved play highlighted last period action from a local point of view, along with the splendid ball handling ability of Karl Weingartner, team captain, and Don Garavanti. If everything goes right the Mountaineers could finish third in the first half Lehigh Valley League race.

Stroudsburg's showing thus far this season has been all the more remarkable when the terrific number of fouls committed is taken into consideration. The Mountaineers have been so riddled with personal fouls in recent games that they have been forced to play a very loose defense in the fading moments of action, fearful that a wrong move might force one of the stars out of action before the final whistle. Tuesday's clash was a fine example. Little had four fouls at halftime and Nevill and Weingartner each had three. Only Little fouled out and he lasted until one minute and a single tick remained on the clock.

East Stroudsburg appeared to have the winning combination on Tuesday, but Nazareth came through in the second half to earn a 49-44 verdict, thanks to the splendid play of Bill Agnew, one of the best offensive performers to show on the N. Courtland St. hardwood this season. The Cavaliers certainly had the better of the going in the first half, enjoying leads of eight points on at least three occasions, but Nazareth had too much down the home stretch. The loss was the fifth as compared to two wins for the Cavaliers against Lehigh-Northampton League foes.

Coach Dick Forster and his pupils have been running into one bit of bad luck after another this season. Early in the current campaign Bill Pensyl was doing all the scoring. Don Herman joined Pensyl among the top scorers in the Lehigh Valley League Invitation Tournament, and East Stroudsburg advanced to the final round before suffering defeat. Now, Joe Chase, who was in an early season slump, has found his shooting touch, only to have Pensyl and Herman fall-off in point production. Bob "Red" Kupiszewski continues to play his good game, but ever since the tournament Eastburg has been unable to put any of its strong points back to back.

Chase's long one-handed shots and Kupiszewski's driving stabs at the basket kept the Cavaliers in command during the first two periods of Tuesday's game, but nothing could stop Agnew in the third and fourth rounds, as he wound up the game with 25 points. The Cavaliers, like Stroudsburg, have been hampered by personal fouls all season, as they have been forced to rest at least one big man for large portions of each game played thus far in the current flag race.

Both Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg have several basketball problems in common this season. These two teams are alike in many ways, a subject we will discuss thoroughly early next week, a day or two before the first of an annual court "Battles of the Boroughs."

Stroudsburg To Consider Junior High Football Team

Curtis Named Chairman Of Four-Man Exploratory Group

T. Manning "Cap" Curtis, athletic director at Stroudsburg High school, last night was named chairman of a committee to study the possibility of forming a junior high football team at the W. Main St. school next season. The committee, appointed during the course of last night's Athletic Association meeting, consists of four men.

In addition to Curtis the group features Earl F. Groner, superintendent of Stroudsburg schools; Sam Everitt, member of the Stroudsburg school board; and Jerry Stulgaitis, head football and baseball coach at the W. Main St. school.

The committee will study the situation, such as cost, scheduling and other problems, and report to the Athletic Association at some future date.

Basketball
A report on the progress of basketball for Stroudsburg Junior High students was heard. The junior high quintet practices on Wednesday and Friday afternoons and Saturday morning. The same team drills at noon three days each week.

The Athletic Association also agreed to join a growing movement to form a Junior High basketball league with East Stroudsburg and other interested schools in the area.

A discussion also took place on football equipment, its cost, condition and needs.

Mahlon Serfas, faculty athletic manager at Stroudsburg High, was in charge of last night's gathering. Last night's meeting was originally listed for last Wednesday, but it was postponed because of the Stroudsburg-Whitehall basketball game.

A's Purchase Catcher Shantz

Philadelphia (AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics yesterday purchased Bobby Shantz' brother, Wilmer, a catcher, from their Ottawa farm club of the International League.

At the same time the A's sold four players to Ottawa, pitcher Len Matarazzo, catcher Neil Watlington, and infielders Hal Bevan and Charley Wilhelm.

Light Hitter
Wilmer Shantz, 26, hit .227 for Ottawa last year in 103 games. The 170 pound receiver is known as a weak hitter but fine catcher with a good arm. If he sticks with the club, Wilmer and Bobby will be the first brother battery in the big leagues since the Coopers, Mort and Walker, and the Ferrells, Rick and Wes.

Dickey Thrilled Over Selection

Little Rock, Ark. (AP)—Bill Dickey, one of baseball's greatest catchers, said his selection yesterday to baseball's Hall of Fame was a "real thrill."

Nice
"I wasn't even thinking about it when a fellow called and told me about it," said Dickey. "It's sure nice to be up there."

Roseto To Form Little League Club

Roseto—A move was made by the Roseto Community Board of Trade here on Tuesday night to form a Little League team and league during a meeting of the organization at the Marconi Social Club.

Plans call for a team to be formed in Roseto and entered in a circuit that, according to infant plans, would include entries from surrounding territories such as Bangor, East Bangor, etc.

Leader
Joe "Ducky" DeFrank, well known professional and amateur baseball umpire, has been named athletic director and manager of the newly formed organization. DeFrank is a resident of this borough.

Sam Spagnola, Bangor, was named to an official capacity as far as forming the league is concerned. A meeting has been called to discuss the situation further next Wednesday, at which time all parents and sons, the latter of the proper age limit, are urged to attend.

Hornsby To Teach Hitting

Chicago (AP)—Rogers Hornsby, 37, who has managed five major league teams, yesterday turned to baseball as a batting instructor for a pre-season farm club school of the Chicago White Sox.

Florida
Hornsby, who had a brilliant lifetime batting mark of .359 in the National League, will tutor about 40 top minor league performers at a Hollywood, Fla., camp which opens March 1.

Bath Seeks Baseball Franchise

Bangor (AP)—Bath has officially applied for a franchise in the Blue Mountain Baseball League, it was learned here last night. The Bath organization made its request directly to Woodrow A. Jones, president of the circuit and a resident of Nazareth.

If Bath is granted a franchise it is reported that Charley Heath, veteran North Atlantic League and East-Penn League figure, will manage the club.

It was stated at a recent meeting that all six teams playing in the Blue Mountain League last year are interested in returning to action next May, although there is some doubt shown concerning the Pocono A. C. organization that operated out of East Stroudsburg last summer.

Entries

Stockertown was readmitted to the circuit at a recent meeting, bringing the total to seven, counting Pocono A. C. Other entries are Martins Creek, Tatamy, Portland, Johnsonville and Roseto.

The next circuit meeting will be held at Otto's Grand View, near Portland, on Monday, at 8 p. m. The various franchise problems will be discussed and probably settled at this gathering.

At least two other clubs, in addition to Bath, are reportedly seeking franchises in the Blue Mountain League for next season.

No Comment From Terry

Jacksonville, Fla. (AP)—Bill Terry, former New York Giants manager, had little to say yesterday when told he had been named to the baseball Hall of Fame by sportswriters.

"I have nothing to say about it," said Terry who now operates an automobile agency here.

Question
"Nothing at all?" asked a reporter.
"I have no comment to make," he answered.

Senators, Indians Swap Catchers

Washington (AP)—The Washington and Cleveland baseball clubs of the American League exchanged a couple of light-hitting catchers yesterday, Mickey Grasso going to Cleveland in a trade for Joe Tipton.

Averages
Grasso hit .209 for the Senators last season; Tipton .229 for the Indians.

A Washington club official described it as a straight trade.

Phillies Add Simmons To List Of Satisfied Players After Short Front Office Conference

Philadelphia (AP)—Lefty Curt Simmons signed his 1954 pitching contract with the Philadelphia Phillies yesterday after assuring his bosses that he'd hire a gardener this summer, or at least change lawnmowers.

Idle Month
Despite his injury, the tall hurler won 16 games and lost 13 last season for the third place Phillies. The accident occurred on his Meadowbrook, Pa., lawn on June 3. Curt didn't windup again for the Phillies until July 4, and it took the rest of the season to get back in shape.

Simmons, who along with a number of other Phillies had rejected the club's first contract offer, strode into the office yesterday, huddled a few minutes with Secretary George Fletcher and emerged with a smile and an "I'm satisfied" statement.

The 24-year-old fireballer, a $60,000 bonus baby in 1947, declined to discuss the terms of his new contract. "I'm not saying if I got an increase, a decrease, or the same as I got last year, I'm just saying I'm satisfied."

The joviality with which he kidded newsmen indicated Curt had come up with at least a slight boost over the unofficial $17,000 he drew in 1953. Fletcher, acting for club owner Bob Carpenter, who is on a southern hunting trip, also brushed aside all money questions.

Norkus Surprises Nardico In Bloody Battle

Miami Beach, Fla. (AP)—Charlie Norkus, a 5-1 underdog at fight time, scored a technical knockout over Danny Nardico, ranking light heavyweight, in 2:15 of the ninth round here last night.

Norkus, 197, from Jersey City, N. J., and Nardico, 181½, of Tampa, Fla., staged one of the most brutal fights ever seen in the Miami Beach City Auditorium before a crowd of 2,535 who paid a gross gate of $10,683 to see the scheduled 10-rounder.

Norkus staggered Nardico in the first round with a looping right and hurt him again in the second before he floored the Tampan with a looping right near the end of the round. Nardico took the eight count and was holding on at the bell.

A left hook staggered Nardico and a right sent him down for another eight count in the third. He was floored twice more in that round and fell once when Norkus moved away quickly. In the same round Nardico smashed Norkus' nose and drew blood from the Jersey City fighter.

Both Down
Both went down in the fourth and Nardico sent Norkus flying into the ropes with a hard left. Nardico caught Norkus with a right and sent him down for an eight count.

In the fifth, Norkus hurt Nardico and drew blood from the Tampan's mouth but Norkus' nose was still bleeding profusely. Nardico had Norkus in trouble in the sixth but there were no knockdowns.

A right by Norkus had Nardico hanging on in the seventh and a left and a right almost put the Tampan out for good. Both stood up and were staggered during an exchange of hard rights. Nardico caught Norkus and the Jersey City slugger was lying on his back at the bell.

Norkus was cut above the right eye at the start of the eighth but he staggered Nardico with a hard right.

In the ninth both were staggered with rights and a hard right smash sent Nardico down. He came up at the eight count and threw punches out of sheer gameness. Again Nardico went down for the eighth count, got up and was helpless on the ropes when Referee Jimmy Peeler stopped the fight.

One YMCA Court Tussle Listed Today

Only one game will be played in the Senior YMCA Basketball League at Stroudsburg High School tonight, it was announced yesterday by John DeVivo, circuit president.

The lone contest will send Worthington Mower against Frank's Barbers at 7:15 p.m.

Reason
A second scheduled outing between Penn-Dell and Biggs' Restaurant has been postponed until a later date. Shortage of Penn-Dell players, brought about by the circuit vacation of students at the East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, made the postponement necessary.

DeVivo stated that he is hopeful that the Penn-Dell tussle with Biggs' Restaurant can be worked in as the preliminary contest to a home game of the Poconos.

Kiwanis Club

Shows Film On Golf

A film, "Faith, Hope and Hogan," highlighted yesterday's meeting of the Kiwanis Club at the Penn-Stroud Hotel.

The film was substituted for Bennie Borman, basketball coach at Muhlenberg and baseball scout for the St. Louis Cardinals, who was scheduled to be guest speaker at the luncheon.

Borman informed the club that he would be unable to fill the engagement because of hazardous driving conditions in the Allentown area. Borman was afraid that he would be unable to make it back to Muhlenberg in the afternoon and the Mules were slated to play Lafayette last night.

The film, presented by the Christopher fathers, starred Father James Keller, Ben Hogan, Bing Crosby, Bob Hope, Ralph Kiner and Phil Harris.

Each of the stars named brought forth the importance of hard work and courage in becoming a success in various walks of life.

Comeback

The film generally honored Hogan for his remarkable comeback in golf after suffering near fatal injuries in a bus-auto crash. Hogan explained golf and gave a brief demonstration of form. Kiner explained hard work and its importance in his career.

Hope, Crosby and Harris took turns clowning and being serious, in an effort to put across the point expressed in the Christopher movement.

Dick Altomose, program chairman, introduced the program and Wilmer Frisbie operated the projector.

Marty Baldwin, local sportsman, who was scheduled to introduce the guest speaker, was also unable to attend. His plane was grounded by a storm in Chicago.

SPORTSMAN'S DIGEST By Hal Sharp

DOG-PROOF "SET" TRAPS FOX, ETC.

FOXES, COYOTES AND WOLVES ARE CANINES BUT... ON BUSH

...SOME OF THEIR HABITS VARY FROM A DOG'S. THE DOGS GO STRAIGHT TO A BAIT, BUT OTHER CANINES CIRCLE WARILY AND MAY CONSIDER IT FROM A SMALL HILL NEARBY BEFORE APPROACHING CLOSER. THUS, LOCATE A HILLOCK IN AN OPEN CLEARING, DIG A BED FOR TRAP ON THE MOUND'S TOP. DRIVE A STAKE IN THE BED, FIX CHAINS TO STAKE, COILING IT TO SET TRAP ON TOP COVER THE TRAP LIGHTLY WITH DIRT OR SNOW. STICK A SMALL RUSH NEARBY WITH SCENT ON IT. MAKE PRINTS AROUND WITH A FOX FOOT. LEAVE TAINTED MEAT BAIT BEYOND HILL.

Mrs. Baabe Marks 92nd Anniversary

"My mother was almost 83 when she died and I often said I'd like to live that long," Mrs. Rosina Baabe said yesterday on her 92nd birthday.

In good health and excellent spirits, Mrs. Baabe still is active today and when weather conditions permit, goes out of the apartment on frequent visits.

Mrs. Baabe lives with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Monsell at 107 Crystal St., East Stroudsburg.

Her husband, John, died 16 years ago and immediately after his death Mrs. Baabe moved here. Born in Brooklyn, N.Y., Mrs. Baabe and her husband operated a grocery store for a number of years, finally moving in 1910 to Blue Point, Long Island, where he was employed by an oil company.

Two children were born to the couple: Mrs. Christina Monsell and John Baabe, of 510 N. Courtland St. There also are five grandchildren and six great grandchildren.

While in Long Island, Mrs. Baabe was active in Emanuel Lutheran Church at Patchogue, and was remembered by many members of that church on her birthday yesterday. At present she is a member of Grace Lutheran Church, East Stroudsburg, and prides the work of Rev. William Wunder, pastor. Mrs. Baabe is still adept at crocheting. She reads newspapers and magazines and hears with only slight difficulty.

Ag Teachers Meet Tonight

An "in-service" program for area vocational agriculture teachers has been scheduled for 7 p.m. tonight at Chestnut Hill High School in Broadheads.

Two Philadelphia electric company representatives will be present weather permitting to give instruction on electric wiring.

Teachers will also discuss completion of project books for local agriculture students. State project competition begins on Feb. 1.

Frank Varney, Chestnut Hill, will be the host instructor. Ag teachers from Monroe and Northampton County regions are expected to attend, according to Wilmer B. Frisbie, vocational agriculture adviser for the area.

After the Revolutionary War, the first nation to recognize the new United States was Holland which provided a three million guilder loan.

IN A FRIENDLY SPIRIT

GREAT BLESSING!

Suppose we couldn't feast our eyes upon the stars that dot the skies. Suppose we weren't able to see all the sights we daily view. Suppose our sight were then restored. Would we be quick to thank the Lord? Of course we would. Then shouldn't we thank God right now because we see?

Suppose you could have more heating comfort for the rest of your life at no additional ultimate cost. You can if you invest now in storm windows. In time they pay for themselves; they protect your home from the minute they are installed. Stop in tomorrow for a free estimate.

Court System Improvements Suggested

Philadelphia (AP) — Superior Court Judge Robert E. Woodside yesterday advanced five suggestions for improving the workings of Pennsylvania's judicial system.

Woodside, former attorney general recently appointed to the bench by Gov. John S. Fine, was the first speaker in the two-day session of the first statewide judicial conference held in 18 years.

The conference was called by Chief Justice Horace Stern of the State Supreme Court, for the purpose of finding methods of improving the administration of the law in Pennsylvania. Attending are judges of the Supreme and Superior Courts and all county courts in the state.

Judge Woodside said complaints about delay in the hearing of cases is valid but he added the record of Pennsylvania courts is good. However, he contended, "it can and should be better."

Woodside suggested these ways to reduce the backlog of jury cases awaiting trial:

Encourage trials without juries; use the Arbitration Act of 1951 (this provides for arbitration of claims under $1,000); more pre-trial conferences; obtain cooperation of lawyers in avoiding delays and judges put in more time in court.

Carl Decker's Rabbit Places Fourth In National Contest

A Chipperfield Drive, Stroud Township rabbit-breeder received word this week that one of his Black Dutch rabbit entries took fourth place in national competition at Amarillo, Texas.

Carl Decker began raising the specially marked rabbits two years ago as a hobby and last year entered them in competition.

Since then his prize buck won first prize at the Allentown Fair in competition with 400 other rabbits; won first again at the Reading Fair in a class with 600; took first at Marion, Ind., and his entries won all prizes at the West End Fair, Gilbert.

In the Texas exhibit, the buck scored honors in the Black Dutch class over 29 other rabbits. This same animal took second prize in Allentown recently in Eastern Convention competition, with breeders from 23 states vying for awards.

Decker said a doe he also shipped to Texas was disqualified because judges found two white hairs in the solid black portion of her body. The front part of the animals are marked white, with distinguished black fur on the ears and feet.

At the Reading Fair, Decker's rabbits took seven ribbons, with only six animals entered in competition. The prize buck walked off with the two top laurels.
